EXCEL THROUGH EXCHANGE

KCM believes in the importance of a well-rounded individual through a fulfilling study-life balance. To maintain academic excellence, faculties holding senior positions with major corporations in Nepal facilitate the curriculum at KCM. Their wealth of practical knowledge brings a real-life perspective into the classrooms. An Information Resource Center provides access to books, journals, and research papers.

Exchange programs get students out of their comfort zone and expose them to a new world. It is challenging yet rewarding. Through the program, you become mature, flexible, and resourceful. These qualities give students an edge over others as such attributes are highly prized by employers in a competitive job market. An exchange will enable students to excel by making them:

- Self-reliant and Confident
- Have an optimistic outlook
- Enhance overall personality

EXCEL THROUGH EXCHANGE

At KCM, students are actively involved in many extra-curricular activities such as social and club events. Some of the flagship events include Nepal Management Symposium, Girls on Wheels, Inter College Music Competition, Basketball Bash, and others. These events are entirely managed by the clubs in collaboration with the student council. Students also volunteer for Annual General Meetings and conferences of banks and corporate houses. By taking a hands-on approach, students develop many of the key managerial skills required to organize, plan and implement.

An exchange at KCM allows you to learn and grow by taking part in various events. Gain insights on a professional and social level by joining the following clubs:

- Career Club
- Social Welfare Club
- IT Club
- Publication Club
- Arts Club
- Sports Club
- Junior Achievers Forum

Invest in yourself and embark on your personal growth journey to enrich your mind.

Introducing student exchange program for international students to pursue management studies in Kathmandu Nepal.

“If you have an inquisitive mind that constantly seeks exploration, then Kathmandu College of Management offers you the perfect opportunity to do this.”

Located in South Asia, Nepal is strategically positioned between two prominent economies, China and India. Both countries have greatly influenced the architecture, food and customs of Nepal. As a result, Hinduism and Buddhism have co-existed peacefully making Nepal one of the most multi-cultural nations.

People from all over the world come to Nepal for spiritual pursuits and adventure sports. Renowned for mountaineering, Nepal is home to eight of the world’s tallest peaks including Mt. Everest. The topographical landscape is a natural playground for recreational activities like hiking, mountain biking, paragliding, jungle safaris and more. Stroll through the streets of Kathmandu and get acquainted with world heritage sites. Take in the panoramic view of stupas and temples against the backdrop of the majestic mountains. Kathmandu is well connected through a network of roads and flights so you can easily enjoy modern amenities amidst the historical city.

EXPLORE THROUGH EXCHANGE

Along with the natural beauty, Nepal is also culturally diverse with many ethnicities living in harmony. By engaging with the local surroundings, you will gain a deeper understanding of various cultures as well as broadening your social horizons.

KCM places a strong emphasis on community and diversity. Students come from different backgrounds but have a close-knit bond within the student body. The supportive culture empowers students to experiment with new ideas. Healthy interactions are encouraged to promote an exchange of intercultural knowledge. As you share your culture, you will begin to find meaning in your own heritage.

College is a time of discovery and an immersion program at KCM helps:

- Explore a new environment
- Explore ideas with peers for a holistic view
- Develop interpersonal skills through meaningful relationships
